What is AFCC?

AFCC is the Association of Family and Conciliation Courts—an interdisciplinary and international association of professionals dedicated to the resolution of family conflict. AFCC is unique because members do not share a common profession; instead they share a strong commitment to benefit communities, empower families and promote a healthy future for children.

What is the AFCC Annual Conference?

The AFCC Annual Conference is the premier interdisciplinary family law, mental health and dispute resolution conference. AFCC Annual Conferences are a springboard for new initiatives in the field of separation and divorce. Participants are a diverse group of professionals focused on the latest innovations in practice, education, research and services for children and families in conflict.

Who attends AFCC Conferences?

Judges, lawyers, mediators, psychologists, social workers, researchers, academics, counselors, court commissioners, custody evaluators, parenting coordinators, parent educators, financial planners and graduate students. Between 900-1,000 participants are expected to attend AFCC's 47th Annual Conference in Denver.

What is different about AFCC conferences?

AFCC conferences bring together renowned interdisciplinary professionals from all over the world to exchange information, share perspectives and work collaboratively on issues. AFCC conferences provide face-to-face contact with these dedicated leaders and decision makers.

Why should you exhibit?

AFCC conferences are known for having the best networking anywhere! The exhibitor forum is centrally located in a high traffic area near conference beverage breaks and is designed to maximize visibility of exhibitors. Exhibitors receive admission to all conference sessions, meal functions and networking opportunities, including AFCC's famous Hospitality Suite.

Professionals dedicated to improving the lives of children and families through the resolution of family conflict
